Did you know that you can report streetlight outages directly to SaskPower?

You can go to SaskPower.com under the Services tab and look under Report Trouble for Report Streetlight Troubles. Scroll down to Report Streetlight Outage, when you click on that a map comes up where you zoom in to the area you are reporting on. Once you zoom in far enough you will see green streetlight dots. Click on the dot and a text box will come up where you can report the light. Fill in the information and the report will go to the right area at SaskPower without having to call, wait on the line, and try to figure out which streetlight you are trying to report.

Just please note that SaskPower looks after streetlights in many cities, towns and villages but not all of them are theirs. Streetlights in new areas and privately owned lights won't appear on the map.
